

Will the house framing system I choose be approved by councils and lending authorities?

Yes. Engineer's details to satisfy council requirements are routinely available, and lending authorities see steel framing as an excellent long-term investment.